FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Granite Peak Breaks Ground on Major Williston Subdivision

Groundbreaking was held on the Granite Peak Subdivision today that will provide housing for 250 families in northwest Williston. The subdivision includes land for 84 single-family homes, 84 twin homes and a 100+ unit apartment complex.

“Granite Peak will be adding hundreds of new units to Williston’s housing mix,” said Gov. John Hoeven. “We appreciate working with the Granite Peak team and the city of Williston through our state agencies to help build quality housing for the community.”

“We’re pleased to have a developer with as much experience as Granite Peak invest in our community,” says Williston Mayor Ward Koeser. “This will really help us address the tremendous housing shortage that we are experiencing.”

Granite Peak Development, LLC is a major real estate developer in Casper and Cheyenne, Wyoming and is now looking to expand their interest into Williston.

“Granite Peak Development is pleased to have the opportunity to be a part of the Williston community,” says Dan Guertmann, Director of Finance for Granite Peak. “We are looking forward to a long and productive relationship with the City in meeting the current and future needs of Williston. We appreciate the excellent working relationship we have with the City and their “Can Do Attitude”. “

“Working with the Mayor, the Commissioners, Economic Development and the Public Works Department has been a pleasure and demonstrates Williston’s commitment to growing the City in a responsible manner,” says Terry Metzler, ND Operations Manager.

“We hope our experience and Williston’s desire to plan for parks, schools and community needs will continue to make Williston a great place to live. We are impressed with the support Williston has received from the Governor and state officials to meet the needs of Williston,” says Neil McMurry, Principal in Granite Peak Development.
